Introduction

After derived the golden and glittering concept of democracy from USA, India has been shining and growing gigantically and strongly in its soul work of social, political and economical aspects. Nature of constitution, law making and policy making are varied based on the Indian's civil situation as well as India's external policy requirements. From the Jawaharlal Nehru periods to present context policies are sprouted and implemented more and lot by the several party's prime ministers as per the social, political and economical requirements of the common civilians and poor people. Political policies are being made by the politicians and bureaucracy with an interest to sustain and succeed their career in the lucrative and luxurious life by bothering slightly about the socio-economic developments of the under privileged and under developed communities across the India.

Even after India got 76 year aged ,still there are number of and numerous problems in villages ,panchyat unions, urban ,district and corporations ,all these problems are persisted and stick with poor people and middle class communities living place due to negligence and careless administrative of the both central and state governments .Both governments need to stick with constitutional procedures and guidelines to implement more welfare policies ,it should be executed properly and rightly by instructing to its monitoring authority for following it from central to village and village to central government .Dereliction and deviation from this monitoring matter concern officers needed to be suspended. Under privileged people are getting and affecting by plethora of problems for meet their daily survival requirement .Still this society is being ruled and governed by the corporate on capitalist model owing to great and mammoth influences of ruling politicians and policy makers, who are wanted to keep many sections of people at under progress and under development especially in social, political and economical domains. Importance of Indian parliament and law is to protect and preserve people from the existing worst and pathetic situation by sanctioning and allotting appropriate budget to see a desired improvements .Now days ,reverse to those points, parliament and policy makers are worried to much about retaining their seat and power even though they have not ruled India properly as per the people's interest .In this difficult situation people belong to daily wager and daily coli community have been passed away without enjoying their natural rights due to forgery and fraudulent administrators of the Indian political system.

Through and by power, even wrong and notorious politicians are able to sustain and retain their power by doing malpractices in the voting time thereby ,innocent and poor people's futures and career as well as their children futures are buried at irrecoverable ditch so, they feel and die along with too much sadness and uncomfortable feelings .They will not die without enjoying and possessing their basic rights in case of existing and previous rulers and governing body had been done their administration and governance properly as per the people's needs .

Still government policy did not influence and make sufficient and successive impact in lower people career ,same poor situation and conditions prevails in more villages and places due to great scam and corruption ,it has prevented and stopped poor people's development even in the contemporary period .In this twenty first century , some portion of people are able to glow and shine in the business ,investment and property along with support of their ancestral property support and help ,this elite property groups are shining in their career and business from their forefather's accumulated property wealth unless they would have been one of and one among the poor of India. Rest of people in

India are getting eternal and endless social

,economical and survival problem though those people have completed basic education with little bit employment opportunities, ultimately they are not able make a steady and strong development in their career.

To change the worst and dangerous situation of those poor people's career and life, government have to enact many programmes and policies with proper implementing and executing patterns properly toward saving and protecting those people's pitiable social and survival situation .By the poor performances and practices of the government's officers and executives, this society seems to be incorrigible and irreparable because, problems of the poor and middle class people have become more and huge. Regarding this, government is not able to rectify those people's social and economical issues even after India has been attained 78 years since 1947.

Education seems expensive

According our countries political and constitutional system ,education must be given and made available extensively to all sections of people at free of cost or feasible range ,against this formula, people belong to middle and poor sections are not able to educate their children in the English medium and convent school due to less income problem and economic issues .In Indian scenario ,education fees for LKG ,UKG and First Standard are being charged more and exorbitant in the private education institutions because of the parents demands and approaches them for enable their children to get good job in future.

In favor of this matter, government schools are not caring ,instructing and teaching to the poor people's children owing to teachers negligence and careless duty in the government school and being without liable to be parents and answerable to be students' future .Government being and running carelessly and recklessly not worrying about this horrible situation of the poor people community's educational problems. Parents will not admit and enroll their children in the government school once teachers are not teaching nicely and properly then they will show concern on private schools for their children's bright futures. For the bright and better future of their children parents are wanted to admit in the private school despite they work in low wages, due to more expensive of education, parents earning is going to the private management's education institutions so,they are not able to save little bit money for their future as well as children welfare ,at the same time they could not build a small house and buy vehicles for their daily utility. Nearly 78 % revenue of them monthly spent for their children's education purpose thereby they are paralyzed and worried more in economic and development aspects without able to care their health and family welfare .So, government need to punish teachers who are not teaching clearly and properly for the poor people's development and needs.

To rectify its education system towards facilitating poor and middle class community ,educating method should be followed by the teacher more than private educational institutions .if so, they shall able to shine neatly like Anil Ambani and Ratana TATA Industrialist . In an initial of this study, has highlighted that particular people and community alone able to sit in the political system and keep ruling from the power of their ancestor accumulated property ,rest of people are staggering just like dog for their daily wages and survival under those people . Regarding this cruel matters, Indian government needs to show a colossal attention toward empowering and emanating those people who are not able to educate their children in the private schools and manage their daily survival needs. On other hand, government needs to be revamped and overhauled with new vision and mission because, all the schools are functioning and running without mission and vision that affects more and huge the middle and poor people's children career. In Tamilnadu and Indian budget more amounts are allocated to develop its education system but it would be developed when teachers think that all children are their children in educating aspects so, they will able to educate more just like private managements. On other hand, government department has to supervise and monitor duties and teaching styles of public schools teachers where officers have to give stern and strong punishment unless they do their job properly. This study focuses on diverting all students from private schools to public schools with the help of government's effective and efficient educational reformative policies. Because, changes and modification in its public school education system will make the poor and middle classes to save their money from becoming as the entrepreneurs and capitalist in the upcoming futures.

Role of Democracy

Essential and significance of the democratic form of government is to have been pro- people's needs and requirements with people concern and for their welfare .It gives much more displeasures when problems exists more in the people life despite India has had good democratic setting. It is not a fault of Democratic ideology; rather it is a fault and blunder of the rulers who do not have sufficient wisdom on the India's existing and ominiprevalent cultural and economic system. If so, they would have governed India on true democratic ways toward people welfare and progress. Every where ,too much fees is collected in the private educational schools even for the toddler education ,higher education and middle school education thereby ,poor parents are suffering and worrying more not able to pay exorbitant fees and being at inability situation and uncomfortable thinking about future survival. Rulers, officers, executive and mentors are being paid monthly enough salary by the government of India from the those poor and middle classes people's incomes and hard works to take care of the social, political and economical well being of them but against morality, Government officers are bound with reckless and uninterested toward shaping the poor people's life requirements and failed for regulating private school's too much fees structure collected from the poor people.

After understanding and noting down this messages ,both central and state governments have to bring a swift changes in existing too much private school fees structure for empowering poor people in social, economical and political aspects .In future ,private Educational institution should provide educational facilities on government instructed fees direction, unless, concern officers are needed to watch and supervise all schools fess activities to take severe action for guaranteeing nominal fees structure.

Conclusion

Administrators, governors and rulers in India needed to be followed and practiced as per the outlines of Indian constitution toward implementing its welfare and public goal without any bias for ensuring social justice. With an view and interest to save and protect poor and middle class sections they have work hard and more without any hesitation and downhearted thinking because it will stop and prevent poor people's goal and ambition that they cherish from their birth to death with lot of hard work. Government ought to take needful and necessary decision and action on charging unfair fees in the private educational institutions even for the toddler education and it has to improve its government educational educating standards as per the needs of the present various sections of the people at welfare mode.
